·Egly-Ouriet·

Run by Francis Egly, this producer has become a cult champagne for devotees around the world. This is the reward for very hard work in the vineyards and meticulous attention to detail. Apart from a single vineyard of old vine Pinot Meunier in Vriigny, all vineyards are 100 per cent Grand Cru, Pinot Noir areas. As such, the wines are Pinot dominant, rich and powerful with deep colours, hedonistic aromas and explosive layered personalities in the mouth. If you have never tasted the wines of this producer, be prepared for wines that have nothing to do with traditional champagne styles.

· Joh. Jos. Prum ·

All the vineyards of Joh. Jos. Prum are renowned, yet it is the great Wehlener Sonnenuhr vineyard that is the most famous. For wine lovers around the world the name is synonymous with great Riesling. In top vintages the site yields the richest silkiest most seductive wines on the Mosel. These wines possess excellent structure, show beautiful, ripe aromas and flavours of stone fruits (such as peach, nectarine and apricot) supported by a fine minerality and great depth and length. Especially after having been aged for some years, the harmony, finesse and expression of these wines is unique.

• By Farr •

Nick and Gary Farr stand side by side, but aren't afraid to go head-to-head when their opinions differ. Each generation has developed a distinctive winemaking style based on his individual experience and taste, and their respective lines - By Farr by Gary and Farr Rising by Nick have received critical acclaim both in Australia and overseas.

• Disznókó •

This is one of Tokaji's greatest producers. The Disznoko house style is one of rich intensity balanced by fresh, lemony acidity. The wines have a wonderful elegance with the natural sweetness cut with the classic tangy, raciness that has made Tokaji so famous.
